Research Experience

Research Assistant, University of Colorado Boulder (2015–Present)

Department of Information Science

Advisor: Dr. Amy Volda

Topic: Technology and data usage within non profit and other mission driven organizations

Research Assistant, University of Colorado Boulder (2014–2015)

Department of Computer Science

Advisor: Dr. Leysia Palen

Topic: Diffusion of information through image sharing during disasters

Professional Experience

Infrastructure Engineer, AppliedTrust (2012–2014)

Worked with clients across diverse industries, primarily focusing on a large non profit hospital and a non profit public broadcasting organization. Projects included designing a role based identity and access management system, introducing new radiology information systems, and migrating to new enterprise Microsoft services.

IT Manager, AIDS Foundation of Chicago (2010–2012)

Provided both operational and strategic direction for the non profit's technology usage. Special projects included the creation of HIV prevalence maps of Chicago neighborhoods, and implementation of systems to support remote working.

Senior Information Security Consultant, Crowe Horwath (2006–2010)

Led information security audits and penetration tests for clients within regulated industries including banking/finance, gaming, government, health care, manufacturing and public energy. Oversaw teams of 2-3 staff members and completed and submitted accurate reports under demanding deadlines.

Computer/Network Technician, The Network Support Company (2006)

Performed break/fix network and computer system troubleshooting for clients.

Lead Desktop Support Representative, Rochester Institute of Technology (2002–2006)

Performed break/fix computer system troubleshooting for university faculty and staff. Led the student team by providing technical expertise to newer employees and providing assistance in difficult situations.

Consulting

Data Management and Analysis, access.mobile (2014–2015)

Collaborated with the social enterprise's management team to develop data management and analysis strategies that integrated with the existing development life cycle.

Data Collection Technology, Re:Vision International (2014–2015)

Cooperatively developed a tablet-based data collection system to track and report the non profit's work.

Teaching Experience

Instructor

Information Communication Technology for Development Laboratory

Fall 2015, Spring 2016, & Fall 2016, Graduate Project Course

Co-Instructor

Information Communication Technology for Development Practicum
Spring 2016, Graduate Project Course

Teaching Assistant

Human Computer Interaction: Survey and Synthesis
Fall 2014, Graduate Level Course

Human Centered Computing: Big Data
Fall 2014, Undergraduate Level Course

Social Computing
Spring 2014, Graduate and Undergraduate Level Course

Workshops

Technology, Arts & Media Workshop, University of Colorado Boulder (2015)
Introduction to technology and data in social impact measurement.

Selected Course Work

Program Evaluation (2015)
Built a logic model and evaluation methodology for a social enterprise focused program that aimed to improve access to important products in the Global South.

Social Entrepreneurship for Emerging Economies (2013)
Developed an in-depth case study of a local social entrepreneur in a small team and led the class in a lesson centered around a critical decision facing the entrepreneur.

Presentations

Invited Talks

Social Media for Social Good, University of Colorado Boulder (2014, 2015)
